Use of Graphics and Photos

Incorporate tables and graphs in the body of the text, centered within the text. Figure captions should be centered and placed at the bottom of the figure.

Figure axis labels are often a source of confusion. Use words rather than symbols. For example, write "magnetization," or "magnetization (M)" not just "M." Put units in parentheses.

Use of Tables

Tables should be centered within the text. Table captions should be centered above the table. Avoid placing tables before their first mention in the text. When possible, use a table editor to create tables. Do not use space to align the columns of your table. Do Not use the "columns" feature to create tables. Identify each table with a bold numeric reference and center it at the top of your table.

Use 10-point Times Roman or Calibri font style with affiliation in italics.
